

The ICRS Forum

Those of you who visit the ICRS website (<http://www.cannabinoidsociety.org>) on a regular basis will have noticed that we have a new feature, the ICRS Forum, for the exchange of ideas and the dissemination of information on cannabinoid-related meetings, publications and vacant positions. Of course, an interactive forum requires just that – interaction - so here is a quick guide as to how to use the Forum.

1. Log in / register as a new member. Accepting the rules of the Forum brings you to a standard formula (see the screen dump below). No credit card required!

Register at ICRS Forum

In order to be able to post messages on the ICRS Forum forums, you must first register. Please enter your desired user name, your email address and other required details in the form below.

[Note that the numbers of “threads” (novel contributions, on the right) are modest at the time of writing – we need your help for the Forum to take off.]

3. Click on the Main Forum you wish to view (left column), and then the Subforum of your choice. If you want to make an original contribution at any time, simply press the “New Topic” button.

[This screen dump gives me the chance to thank Jason for his excellent and continuing work on the website. It is much appreciated.]

4. Pressing the New Topic button brings you to a page where your message can be written and posted. Something like this....

Preview the post and, if you are happy, submit it, and up it comes...

Other goodies on the Forum include a simple messaging system for sending private e-mails between Forum members, internet messaging access, poll taking, shared calendars, an excellent search function, and much more. But don't just take my word for it – get out there, explore the forum, post and comment on threads!
